Introduction

It is known that basic product of statistical institutions is the statistical figure, which means the statistical indicator, and when talking about the statistics quality we talk about the quality of the statistical indicator itself, its accuracy, the extent of this indicator to be benefit for decision maker and researcher and whoever or wherever the regular user is, and on suitable time.

Indicators in this Manual selected according to the following main criteria:

- 1- Needs of decision makers and researchers in the country, at different environmental, economic, and social levels.
- 2- Clear, explicit and serve as a basis for comparisons on temporal and spatial level, local and international.
- 3- Generally, must be consistent with the standards adopted worldwide.
- 4- Should base basically on unified international standards.
- 5- And finally to be built on defined data sources, documented, to be subject to express it quantitatively, and logic to allow continuous controlling through time.

Statistical indicators are multipurpose tool, as they contribute to monitor economic and social changes on national level, and by following-up these indicators, development plans are prepared to improve the status of activities that experiencing a lack of performance, and through these indicators, users can monitor the reality and specify requirements according to scientific ground.

The number of indicators in this Manual is 560, distributed between the statistical directorates as follows: 238 indicators of them belong to population and social statistics, which represents 42.5%, 159 indicators belong to area statistics which represents 28.4%, and finally there are 163 indicators belonging to economic statistics which represents 29.1% of the total number of indicators.

Statistical Indicator

It is an expression of the reality of a phenomenon in a specific time and place could be expressed in absolute or relative number, or as a "Rate", monitors a prevailing condition or a particular situation, and can be interpreted and explained through the use of verbal expression.

Good indicator described as:

- 1- Suitable and expresses local needs.
- 2- Capable to summarize the information without prejudicing the content.
- 3- Subject to coordination and construction, and allows for international comparisons.
- 4- Accurate.
- 5- Reliable.

Indicator should serve to perform the following activities:

- 1- Measure the achievements of planned goals.
- 2- Identifying undesirable problems and cases.
- 3- To respond to concerns of politicians.
- 4- Examine the results of indicators use.
- 5- Compare its value to specific reference values and to its own value during different periods of time.

In this context, the statistical indicator must refer to a specific point. Imagine yourself refer to a point on the wall using one finger not two, and you try to make your finger straight heading to that point such that you stand in a place that does not obscure the vision from the person you meant to guide to that point . Although there would be other points around the point that you meant and you make every effort to exclude those points through additional directions. Exactly like that, statistical indicator must work, it is a number (your own finger) that is based on information and a large work (your hand and body), and that covers specified time (guidance time), a specific place (the wall and point on it), and a specific topic (the point itself and nothing else).

Manual Evolution

This Manual provides a detailed explanation of each of the statistical indicators produced by all directorates, departments and specialized programs in PCBS, which has been collected by a team of staff representatives of the departments in the institution. Where they adopted primarily on indicators published by PCBS in the reports and patrols and publications, all indicators defined according to the international references available, but in the absence of such international reference, the team have to resort to other definitions by the professionals, and the same thing for the method of calculation and the rest of the information for each indicator included in this guide.

An important developments made to the "2013 version" is the addition of a new description for each indicator under the title " level of details" or "variables" where detailed levels covered by each indicator in this Manual have been identified.

Example (1):

The main indicator " Percentage of Smokers (12 Years and Over)" and to add in the column devoted to the levels of details: By the practice of smoking habit (Smoke hookah, Cigarettes, Pipes, Who do not smoke and never smoke before, Who had usually smoking earlier and stopped).

Example (2):

The main indicator: "Annual Average Price of Energy Forms" and to add in the column devoted to the levels of details: By Type of Fuel (gasoline, diesel, gas, kerosene, oil and grease, bitumen, coal, firewood).

The Manual contains a total of 560 main statistical indicators which produced and published by PCBS and cover all social, economic, demographic and environmental topics. The Manual was consisted of about 644 indicators, and after the addition of the new item (level of detail) a lot of indicators were merged that have had the details of many levels, therefore they were collected into a single indicator that contained some details, for example: The main indicator (Palestinian population estimated) by level of detail (sex) is two indicators actually, "Number of Palestinians male estimated" and "Number of Palestinians females estimated".

This Manual, does not pretend that it includes all indicators about the data that PCBS publishes, there are certainly indicators that could not be included by authors for a variety of reasons, but the most important that they tried to focus on main indicators.
